GIRL HERE NOT WINTERS CHILD

Mrs. W. A. Winters, Step-mother of Missing Newcastle Girl, Comes to See Suspect

RESEMBLANCE VERY SLIGHT

Oliver Curry, Thinking he Had Right "Dope", Goes to Newcastle and Gives Officers Tip

Another Catherine Winters clew fizzled out this morning when Mrs. W. A. Winters, of Newcastle, step-mother of the missing child, came here to identify a child held at a camp in South Spencer street, in the far western edge of the city. Mrs. Winters positively stated that the child was not Catherine Winters and the little girl showed no signs of recognizing Mrs. Winters.

Great excitement prevailed in this part of the city when it was learned that Mrs. Winters was coming to the camp. The people were aware that the Newcastle officers, who were here had failed to identify the child as Catherine Winters, but hope was held out that Mrs. Winters would be able to do so.

While the crowd was disappointed the mother and father of the little girl under suspicion were over-joyed and expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the outcome although they wished Mrs. Winters success in the search.

The little girl, whose name is Catherine Forest, is the same age as Catherine Winters, but the resemblance is very slight. The color of the eyes and hair of the two are different.

The rumor that Catherine Winters had been found here spread like wildfire last night and when Prosecutor Myers and former prosecutor H. H. Evans came here and stated that the girl was not Catherine hope was not given up. It was stated that Dr. Winters would come here this morning from Columbus, but he found it impossible to do so and Mrs. Winters came down from Newcastle.

Mr. and Mrs. William Forest, parents of the little girl at the gypsy camp, were willing that the police make an investigation and their manner during the whole proceedings was such that no suspicion could be cast their way. They gave a satisfactory explanation to the police and left the city shortly after Mrs. Winters had visited the camp.

Oliver Curry, a local paper hanger, thought he had the right "dope" on the case and slipped quietly out of the city yesterday morning and went to Newcastle where he told the officers his story of the girl resembling Catherine Winters. The Newcastle officials, wishing to run down every clue, started from that city in two automobiles. Prosecutor Walter Myers and former prosecutor H. H. Evans were the only ones to arrive.

The machine in which was Chief of Police Williams, Sheriff Bouslog, Chester Dewitt and Mr. Curry rode turned over five miles south of Newcastle while enroute here and this party of men never did reach the city. Chief of Police Williams was seriously injured, but the rest of the party escaped by jumping.

Prosecutor Myers and H. H. Evans, on arriving here went directly to the office of Sheriff Cavitt and the three went to the gypsy camp, if it could be called such, for it consisted of one wagon. The party was camped west of the city on the Indianapolis pike. The Newcastle men arrived here about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. The girl, according to the officials, bore a very slight resemblance to the missing child.

MAY NOT NEED CARRANZA

Agreement May be Made Without Participation of Rebel Head.

(By United Press.)

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jun. 6.—After a forty-five minute conference between the American delegates and the mediators today there were indications that further progress had been made toward such an agreement as would be possible without participation of the Constitutionalists. The meeting today was called at the request of Justice Lamar. At its conclusion the justice said there would certainly be another conversation Monday. This is the first conversation since Tuesday.

BOARD BUSY WITH ASSESSOR SHEETS

Reviews Not Yet Reached Point Where They Call in Witness to go Over Some Assessments.

MORTGAGE EXEMPTION WORK

The county board of review concluded its first week's work today. The board has not yet been able to get down to the real work of appraisal of the property of corporations in the county, but is busy going over the sheets of the township assessors in order to strike an average value for various articles and products. The board has also been very busy checking up the mortgage exemptions.

Within a short time the board will call witnesses to go over some of the assessments made and to make the changes it believes necessary. Much interest in the value of the corporation property in the city limits is being taken by the people. From the board's report, the general business conditions here can be judged. The board will conclude its work June 23 as it is allowed by law to remain in session only twenty days in this county.

NIGHT FAIR WILL BE HELD THIS YEAR

This Decision is Reached This Afternoon by the Executive Committee of Fair Association.

CONSIDERED FOR SOME TIME

It was announced shortly after three o'clock this afternoon at the office of J. Q. Thomas, secretary of the Rush County Fair association, that a night fair would be held in connection with the annual Rush county fair this year for the first time. The executive committee of the fair board late this afternoon reached this decision after the special committee appointed to investigate the night fair proposition had put the matter up to the executive committee. The question of holding a night fair has been under consideration for several months and the special committee has been making extensive inquiries. Details as to lighting and entertainment will be announced later.

"You may say," said a member of the committee, "that they are going to have a night fair with all the fixin's. It will be the biggest fair on earth this year, too."

BOOSTERS GET SEVERAL JOLTS

They Are Verbal Kind, However, But Species That Comes From Jumping Creeks in Autos.

SKINNED NOSES EVIDENT

Meet With a Cordial Reception Everywhere in Extending Invitations to Big Wednesday.

The Big Wednesday boosters who made a tour of the county yesterday covered most of the ground, but they found some "rough sledding." At one point during the trip the crowd, which rode in four automobiles, received a severe shaking up. They never went back to investigate, but they all decided that they must have "cleared" a creek, where there was a bridge out.

Although they have no exact explanation, they know that something was wrong. The men were riding along sublimely, and with a secure feeling, when suddenly each car, as it crossed the bridge, gave a sudden lurch and a big bound like a bronco that is under the process of being "broken."

The jolt came unexpectedly and unannounced. Some of the men were thrown against the top of the machines, others sideways and others were hurled against the windshields and the back of the front seat. Scarcely a man came out of the fracas without a bruise or scratch of some sort. Skinned noses were very much in evidence this morning.

The boosters on the "Flying Squadron" reported a very cordial reception everywhere. In every town in Rush and adjoining counties they found people who said they welcomed the return of Rushville's bargain days. The whole county would have been billed but for the fact that the boosters ran out of advertising matter. Milroy, Manilla and Homer were not visited, but will be Monday.

Automobiles were furnished by E. W. Polk, John Walker, Otto Busard and Earl Winship. Among the boosters were, in addition to the men who gave the use of their machines: Charles Rasor, Charles Offutt, Earl Osborne, Ralph Payne, Pearl Wamsley, Ben Vigran, Frank Bell, Paul T. Allen, Walter Hubbard, George F. Moore, Joe Lakin and H. G. Hackman. L. B. Smelser and Hugh Mauzy went to Arlington, Gwynneville and Morristown where they distributed advertising matter and extended invitations to attend Rushville's Big Wednesday.

The following was given out at Chamber of Commerce headquarters yesterday concerning the booster expedition:

The Big Wednesday "Flying Squadron" did some fine hustling yesterday, and rounded the county well, even cutting into the neighboring counties in the work of boosting Rushville trade. The "Boosters" made just such a tour on a small scale as the Cincinnati "Boosters" did when they made their memorable stop in Rushville on May 14. They know it pays, and we believe so too.

Everywhere the "Boosters" met with a warm welcome. All the surrounding towns were visited, and at every door we knocked, and invited the residents to our city as we handed them the circulars. Nearly every person smiled warmly and said, "Thank you, I'll come if I can."

The Rushville merchants are known, and have many friends in every community around us. That doesn't look as if all Rush County trade went to foreign parts. People said that they were glad to have the famous Big Wednesdays come

MACHINE IS IN CONTROL TODAY

Clearly Demonstrated on Votes For Prosecutor and Treasurer Taggart Crowd Holds Sway.

IN DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Donald Smith Defeats B. F. Miller and O. J. Cook Wins Over Cary Jackson on 1st Ballot.

The Democratic county convention opened this afternoon with the report of the rules and order committee. The report was adopted as read and recommended J. T. Arbuckle for permanent chairman and Howard Clawson of Walker township for secretary. The report was read by W. E. Wallace, chairman of the committee.

The committee on rules and organization also made the nominations for county council. The councilmen-at-large as nominated are Nathan Arbuckle, Walker township; John Vernon, Orange, and T. J. Martin of Washington township. The district councilmanic nominees are: No. 1, Ed Buscher; No. 2, Samuel O. Norris; No. 3, Rolla Zorne, and No. 4, Lon Link.

Chairman Arbuckle did not make a speech to the convention, but introduced George Bitler, of Fort Wayne, Democratic candidate for state treasurer. The coliseum was well filled when Mr. Bitler began his address. The delegations did not seem anxious for speech making but were anxious for the fight expected when the balloting began.

Mr. Bitler devoted his address to an attempt to show that the country was prosperous under the present Democratic administration despite reports circulated to the contrary. He declared that the depression we hear so much about is all alleged. "One thing is certain, we are not going to have any panics like we had in 1907 under Roosevelt," said Mr. Bitler.

Dale Crittenger, of Anderson, Democratic candidate for state auditor, was next introduced to the convention. Mr. Crittenger praised the tariff law and currency act of the Wilson administration and stated that the people had confidence in both. He praised Governor Ralston and his administration, stating that such laws as the public service commission act and the vocational education law were a credit to the state.

Will L. Brown read the resolutions as prepared by the committee. The resolutions commended all the Democrats in office, from President Wilson, Kern and Shively, down to Finly Gray and even the Democratic county officials. The resolutions were very lengthy and closed with pledging the convention to a clean election this fall.

On the call for nominations of prosecuting attorney the Rushville township delegation presented the names of Benjamin F. Miller and Donald L. Smith. Mr. Miller is an ardent anti-Taggart man, while Mr. Smith who is the present prosecutor is a machine man and was appointed by the Taggart machine to his present position. The convention was all excitement preparatory to casting the ballot. The vote was expected to show the comparative strength of the Taggart and anti-Taggart forces assembled in the convention.

The TaggartFairbanks machine which has gradually got a foot-hold on the Democrats of Rush county, was believed to be in control of the convention. In cases where the delegates or their alternates did not put in an appearance their places were filled with men, who were known to

ABEL WIRES THAT HE HAS THE GOODS

Detective in Winters Case Declares That he Will be on Hand When The Time is Right.

SAYS HE'S NOT BIT WORRIED

(By United Press.)

Newcastle, Ind., June 6.—R. H. Abel, the detective who has created such a stir in the Catherine Winters case, has not quit the case by any means, if a telegram received here today from him be taken for what it is worth. Abel wired as follows: "Just a few words to let the people of Newcastle know I will be on hand when the time is right. We have the goods, so I am not the least bit worried. I am sending the best regards to Myers and all my friends, wishing you well and luck."

Prosecutor Myers is still investigating the case, but says he has no further report to make. Dr. Winters is reported to have declared that he still believes Catherine is alive and that he will use the funds made in the moving picture business to continue the search. He made a statement in an Indianapolis motion picture house a few days ago that he has employed "six detectives," but no one here knows anything of it.

CARRANZA WILL ACCEPT MEDIATION

But Constitutionalist Chief Will Agree to no Plan That Will Not Eliminate Huerta.

DIPLOMATS ARE SKEPTICAL

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 6.—Carranza is willing to be represented at the mediation conference, was the statement of Constitutionalist headquarters today. But Judge Douglas, legal representative of Carranza, refused to say whether Carranza would agree to mediate all the internal affairs of Mexico. He insisted that Carranza would agree to no plan that did not eliminate Huerta.

Constitutionalists here declared that they would be allowed to land the arms enroute to Tampico. Bryan remained silent.

Judge Douglas said the entire question so far as Carranza and mediation is concerned will be settled within 48 hours unless something unforeseen arises.

South American diplomats were more skeptical about mediation today than ever before. The entire problem has reached such a muddle, they said, that an amicable agreement that will bind all sides seemed remote.

ONE KILLED AND FOUR INJURED

Big Four Through Freight Crashes into Cut of Coal Cars Near Greensburg Today

ENGINEER SCALDED TO DEATH

Other Trainmen are Seriously Hurt, But None Seriously—Happens at Foot of Grade

(By United Press.)

Greensburg, Ind., June 6.—One man was killed and four injured about one mile west of here today when a fast freight train on the Louisville division of the Big Four crashed into a stray cut of coal cars on the main line.

Cyrus P. Nicely, age 30 years, Indianapolis, engineer, was scalded to death.

E. A. Brummerman, Indianapolis, head brakeman, was scalded about the legs and sustained a bruised back.

Ole Oleson, fireman, Anderson, legs and back were scalded.

John E. Brant, Indianapolis, conductor, suffered two broken ribs.

Ivan Jones, Louisville, brakeman, back injured.

The wreck occurred at four o'clock this morning. The through freight from Louisville to Indianapolis was running late. There is a sharp curve just west of here followed by a down grade. At the foot of this grade the wreck occurred. Six steel gondolas loaded with coal had broken loose in the yards and ran down the main line, and the freight, running at full speed, crashed into them.

News of Wreck Here

News of the wreck near Greensburg was received at the Big Four station here this morning, but details were lacking. Section men were ordered to the scene of the wreck at once to help clear up the track so traffic could be resumed. It was expected trains would be running at noon.

SITUATION IS ADMITTED BAD

Conditions in Mediation Circles Serious Because of Reported Landing of Arms at Tampico

SECRETARY BRYAN SILENT

Refuses to Confirm Report Act is Considered Breach of Good Faith by This Government

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 6.—Secretary Bryan refused today to give any information regarding the reported landing of arms at Tampico for the Rebels. He refused also to say whether the Spanish ambassador here representing Huerta had characterized the landing "a breach of good faith on the part of the United States."

The situation is admittedly bad. Reports continue to circulate that the Chilean delegate is out of harmony with the other members. Mediation proceedings are definitely halted for three or four days was the belief here today. They are waiting on Carranza. Meanwhile the situation is serious due to the reported landing of arms.

Information reached here late last night that the American schooner Sunshine from Galveston had landed ammunition at Tampico for the Constitutionalists without interference from the United States. Last night state department and navy department officials would not verify the report, but from other sources it was learned that the presence of the Sunshine off Tampico, with arms aboard consigned to the Constitutionalists, had been known to the Washington Government for several days.

In view of the fact that there had been considerable apprehension regarding the attitude the United States might make toward the landing of ammunition at this Mexican port, the actual delivery of munitions of war for the enemies of the Huerta Government without interference was regarded with significance.

With the Cuban steamer Antilla enroute from New York to Tampico with arms consigned to Carranza's forces there has been much speculation as to what the United States would do in case the Huerta Government should attempt a blockade of the port.

Every indication, however, was that the United States would maintain its previously announced position that Tampico was an open port. At the navy department it was stated that no order had gone to Admiral Badger since May 18, when he was advised that the government desired that commerce with Tampico be uninterrupted, except an order yesterday to keep watch upon Huerta gunboats at Puerto Mexico and Alvarado.

Should these gunboats manifest any signs of moving toward Tampico Admiral Badger was instructed to report at once to Washington. The Mexican vessels have since been kept under close surveillance.

There had been no report to the Navy Department that the boats had made any move toward Tampico, though previous reports from Mexico City had declared Huerta would attempt to prevent the delivery of ammunition to his enemy.

The movements of arms, pending results of mediation at Niagara Falls and the proposals to the Constitutionalists to participate in the peace negotiations, have been followed by disapproval on the part of the South American envoys engaged in the effort to compose the Mexican situation. In fact, there have been widespread reports that the mediators had protested to Wilson against the United States permitting the delivery of ammunition to the Constitutionalists at Tampico.

Secretary Bryan would not discuss the question as to whether the delivery of ammunition would constitute a violation of the understanding with the South American envoys when they undertook the task of conciliation, nor would he comment on the actual delivery of ammunition as reported from Vera Cruz.

Foreign diplomats in Washington displayed great interest in the situation arising from the shipment of war munitions to Mexican ports and they were watching closely for news of a formal declaration of a blockade by the Huerta Government.

IMPORTANT To Housekeepers

We are informed that a corps of operatives from an Alum Baking Powder manufacturer are calling from house to house in this vicinity, making so-called "foaming" demonstrations of the raising power of their baking powder. The demonstrations have been denounced by the Pure Food Commissioners of a number of States as misleading, fraudulent and deceitful, the effect being produced by the addition of albumen to their baking powder to make it foam. If any consumer desires detailed information as to the trick and its character, we shall be glad to send it upon receipt of an inquiry.

These demonstrators carefully avoid any reference to the fact that their baking powder is made of alum. In most States it is required that all baking powders sold shall be plainly labeled to show their ingredients, and the term "Alum" or "Sulphate of Alumina" on the label should be a sufficient notice of the true character of such products.

This company gives the above information for the protection of its customers and itself.

be favorable to the Taggart organization. This was especially true in the Rushville township delegation.

Only one ballot was necessary and Donald Smith was nominated over Mr. Miller by a vote of 179 to 89. The opposition to Smith developed only this morning. The Rushville township delegation gave Smith 46 votes and Miller 35 votes.

The only big fight of the convention was expected to come on the ballot for county treasurer. The names of Cary Jackson of Rushville township and Oliver J. Cook of Richland township were placed in nomination. The opposition to Mr. Jackson has been very noticeable in the past few days. The main opposition is said to have come because he is a "dry" Democrat and was not booked up favorably by the Taggart forces. Mr. Jackson has held several offices and this was expected to hurt him. His defeat was expected as the Taggart forces demonstrated that they held control of the convention.

Cook the Taggart candidate, ran away from Jackson, being nominated by a vote of 162 to 96. Rushville township gave Jackson only 34 votes as to 47 for Cook. Washington township, Jackson's old home, gave him the only real support he received casting 19 out of a possible 23 votes. In this nomination the Taggart forces showed more than ever that they were in control. Judge Morris, Judge Megee, John Gantner, Jim Casady and others of the "power that be" showed they had the old machine well oiled and running fine.

Don M. Casady, of Rushville and Thomas C. Gray of Ripley township opposed each other for the nomination of county recorder. Gray won on the first ballot, the vote being 139 to 129. This was the closest contest of the convention.

Mr. Jackson was called on for a speech but he refused to respond. Mr. Miller was not asked for a speech. Neither of these defeated candidates moved to make the nomination of their successful opponents unanimous as is the custom.

Many persons marveled at the speech of Dale Crittenger. He spoke of Roosevelt "frothing around over the country" and of Beveridge as "snarling" a good bit of the time.

Several Rush county Progressives attended the convention.

Adolphus Cameron was nominated for surveyor over Will Dill by a vote of 167 to 101. Cameron is the present surveyor and has served two terms.

The names of James Tarplee and Eli Collins were presented for county assessor. Before the vote was announced Mr. Collins withdrew and the nomination of Tarplee was made by acclamation.

At the morning session at the coliseum candidates were nominated by acclamation where there was no opposition. In two cases opposition developed unexpectedly. B. F. Miller came out against Donald Smith for prosecutor and Eli Collins of Posey township this morning announced he was a candidate for the county assessor's nomination. James Tarplee of this city had been the only candidate.

Judge Megee, who was appointed by Governor Ralston when Rush county was made a separate judicial circuit, was nominated as he was the only one seeking the place. Some Democrats have seen fit to label Judge Megee a Taggart Democrat, because he has always worked with the machine here and easily won the appointment for judge, which was dictated by the Taggart organization. The anti-Taggart men in Rush county had no timber to put out against Judge Megee.

Dr. John G. Lewis of this city, former secretary of the city health board, and counted an organization Democrat, was nominated for county coroner and Voorhees, Cavitt, the present incumbent, was the unanimous choice of the convention for sheriff. Bert Benner, cashier of Mays bank, an eleventh hour candidate, was named for representative. The story today was that Will Inlow of

Walker township would have taken the nomination, but that the "wet" element was violently opposed to him and that Benner was a compromise candidate.

B. F. Miller was pushed into the ring by his friends to oppose Donald Smith, who many Democrats say is a staunch Taggart as well as a "wet" man. It looked last night as he would have no trouble in landing the nomination. He was appointed prosecutor by Governor Ralston. Mr. Smith is given credit of leading the Taggart forces in Rushville township and is said to have "put across" a Taggart slate in the township convention here. Mr. Miller was advanced by the anti-Taggart men and the "drys." He was reported not to have sought the nomination.

The stench of Taggartism is getting into the nostrils of Rush county Democrats as it is in other Indiana counties. A Democrat is reported to have said that a prominent Democrat leader in Shelby county said the other day that he would not vote for a candidate with a Taggart label and that several of his friends had joined him in taking a solemn oath to that effect. This idea seems to be spreading broadcast that Tom Taggart, Crawford Fairbanks and the rest of the Indiana brewery crowd shall not control the Democrats in Indiana longer.

James Tarplee apparently had the nomination for county assessor sewed up until this morning when a crowd of Posey township Democrats came with a boom for Eli Collins.

At the morning session Samuel Trabue, county chairman, and Knowles Casady, secretary of the county central committee, acted as temporary officers of the convention. The committees were all named at this morning's session.

U. S. Gift to Colombia.

The present kind of diplomacy that holds sway in the United States is the kind that presents to the Colombia government a cool million dollars in gold in American money, in addition to allowing the government and people of Colombia all of the privileges in the Panama canal that are provided for the United States and her people—the country which made possible the greatest engineering feat of many ages and the one on which repeated failures have resulted.

But for our resourcefulness and ability, we have to pay. Why we should pay has never been fathomed, but that is Bryan diplomacy. The treaty with Colombia contains expressions of regret with regard to the events of 1903 when the United States acquired the property where the canal was built, when it ought to be matched by reciprocal expressions on the part of Colombia.

The current number of the American Review of Reviews calls attention to the fact that the senate should scrutinize with care and deliberation this treaty with Colombia, and well given is this advice. It is most certainly the opinion in the United States that Colombia behaved reprehensibly in refusing to ratify the treaty which her authorities had eagerly negotiated with us, known as the Hay-Herran treaty. Our law relating to the canal authorized the President at that time to abandon the Panama route and construct the canal across Nicaragua. If we had adopted this alternative it would have been absolutely ruinous to all the interests of the state of Panama. The people of that state were thus justified in declaring their independence. They were the political and sovereign party in interest, in a far higher sense than was the Government at Bogota.

The French people were also a very important and real party in interest. They had expended a thousand million francs trying to construct the Panama Canal, and had sacrificed perhaps a score of thousands of lives on the isthmus. The politicians at Bogota had done nothing more than to dream that a technical claim of sovereignty might bring them rich awards. Their interests were shadowy; those of others were substantial. We had at first decided to build the canal at Nicaragua. We were conferring an estimable boon upon Colombia when we changed our plans. Others were making immense investments and sacrifices, while Colombia was making neither, but merely counting her prospective gains. The pending treaty refers to the "rights and interests" of Colombia in the canal. This is an unfortunate phrase, because if Colombia has any rights and interests in the canal, they must be paramount.

For a little insignificant sum of twenty-five million Colombia is willing to admit that we also have some rights and interests, and to acknowledge the independence and sovereignty of the republic of Panama. This is to concede that the local rights and interests are indeed those of Panama as sovereign, and not those of Colombia.

The Review of Reviews recalls that this treaty also grants to Colombia certain rights to use the canal, free of tolls, in perpetuity. No such right ought to be granted to any country unless granted to all countries. It is obvious that we could appropriately make concessions to little Panama itself when arranging for the canal strip. But no favored rights in the use of the canal should be granted to Colombia, unless we are also willing to grant them to Mexico and the Central American countries, and in this contention the Review of Reviews seems to be right most certainly.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

Some Nuts to Crack

(Muncie Press)

It is a little hard to understand the mental processes of those who hold up their hands in holy horror at the leadership of a Penrose, and hug to their bosom the leadership of a Bill Flinn.

Beside Bill Flinn, Penrose is attar of roses vs. essence of asafetida.

Penrose is accused of nothing that Flinn has not done in politics. Flinn is a contractor who has amassed millions, much of it in municipal work in the city of Pittsburg, under contracts secured from city and county governments dominated by him. Under his control Pittsburg became one of the "wide-openest" cities in the United States.

And Penrose, by the way, never became a bad boss until he broke with the colonel. Prior to that time he controlled all the offices handed out from the White House which were ordinarily accredited to a senator. He recommended the postmasters in democratic districts and through his hands from the president went the patronage customarily given to a "desirable" senator. The rank and file of the republican party throughout the country never helped Senator Penrose build up his organization through the conferring upon him of public favors, but the colonel, as president, did, just as he did in the case of Senator Quay, Senator Gugenheim, Speaker Cannon, Senator Foraker, until the quarrel arose, Senator, then congressman, Lorimer and all the others whose names have since become a hissing and a byword in the mouth of the upward-lookers.

It is impossible for the common or garden variety of citizen to believe that these men changed their characters when their relations with one great leader changed. If they were desirable at the time he was using patronage to build them up, they are quite as desirable now; and if they are undesirable now, they were undesirable then.

The man in the street is also trying to figure out at this time how it is that the voice of people is portrayed as the voice of God in a bull moose party platform, and the universal primary a cure-all for every political and economic ailment, and then when it turns out as it did in Pennsylvania, where a Penrose gets more of the people's votes than any two of his opponents put together; the leaders of this party raise the cry that the voice of the people is the voice of the devil.

Progressive Tones.

We are gratified to note in the Indianapolis Star today that "Bright Outlook for New Party is Found by Toner." It might be explained that Toner is the state chairman, but the recent primaries in Indiana and elsewhere indicate that he has not sounded the right note even though he's a toner. Furthermore, it might be suggested that if Mr. Toner look in the cellar for hopes, he will find even "brighter prospects."

Be cheerful! We read the other day of a one-armed man who is happy in the satisfaction that he will pound his thumb with a hammer.

Detective Abel in the Winters case may think there's something in a name, but he's failed to show the skeptical yet.

MACHINE MEN HAVE BIG TASK

Those at Helm of Indiana Democracy Begin to Realize They Will Have No Help From Progressives

ALARMED AT G. O. P. ACTIVITY

They are Unable to Comprehend the Change in Public Sentiment and Understand the Trend.

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Indianapolis, June 6.—Engineers of the Indiana Democratic machine are beginning to realize that the road they will be compelled to travel this year will be rather rocky compared with the smooth way over which they ran their machine two years ago. The imposing obstacles that are now looming up are causing considerable worry and apprehension among the politicians who figure that the Democratic party in Indiana has been committed to their care "to have and to hold." Two months ago they confidently expected that division in the ranks of the Republicans would be sufficient to bring victory to their standard no matter how "strong" they might go in their nominations and manipulations. For a time they refused to accept their face value the ample indications that the Republicans of Indiana were rapidly being reunited in their opposition to the free trade party but at last these evidences have been piled so high that they can no longer deceive even themselves that they have a ghost of a show of winning in Indiana this year if they rely solely on division in the Republican ranks.

The practical disappearance of the Bull Moose party, as such, has thrown the candidates on the Democratic state ticket into a panic. They are railing at the organization leaders and besieging them to "get busy"; they are bringing every pressure possible to bear on President Wilson to promise to make a speech in Indiana this fall in an effort to stem the tide towards Republicanism; they are trying heroically to divert the attention of the voters of the state from the two real issues—tariff and taxes; they have analyzed the results of the recent primaries in Indiana, showing great Republican gains and startling Democratic and Progressive losses and they have about come to the conclusion that everything is working together for the good of those who follow the G. O. P.

The Democratic machine leaders and their state candidates are almost dumbfounded by the manifestations of activity of the Republican workers in every county of Indiana; the remarkably large attendance at the various county conventions has caused them to sit up and wonder; they seem at a loss to comprehend why there has been such a change in public sentiment in favor of the Republicans during the past two months. They seem to be unable to realize that the Republicans of Indiana, in their recent convention, nominated one of the cleanest tickets that was ever presented to the voters of Indiana and adopted a platform which has been pronounced one of the most progressive documents ever presented by any political party in any state.

Business, agricultural and political conditions are all working to the benefit of the Republican party. The unsatisfactory workings of the Democratic tariff bill are making Republicans by the hundreds in Indiana each passing day. That's the real reason why the Democratic machine leaders are waking up to the fact that they have got a hard task cut out for them if they beat the Indiana Republican ticket this year. The realization that the Bull Moose vote in the state this year will not be large enough to materially aid the Democratic ticket has given the Democratic machine leaders and the state candidates a feeling akin to seasickness.

MOOSE ORGAN IS "ON THE ROCKS"

The Citizen Failed of Publication Last Week and Its Future is Anything But Bright

B. F. INMAN WAS THE MANAGER

Former Middletown Editor Fails to Guide State Progressive Paper to Safe Financial Haven

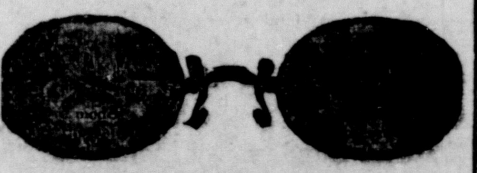

Indianapolis, June 6.—The Citizen, the widely advertised bull moose state organ a weekly paper that was to expound the bull moose gospel from one end of the state to the other failed of publication last week, and there is little prospect that it will be published this week or any other week in the future. Inanition or lack of nourishment is said to be the cause of the trouble.

The paper was in existence for several weeks. It consisted of sixteen pages a week for the enlightenment and entertainment of the members of the party. But difficulties began to multiply and a cloud "no larger than a man's hand" was finally seen in the distance. This cloud swooped down last week and caught the Citizen.

When it was found that the paper could not be issued last week the alarm was sounded and numerous conferences have been held since then to decide on a future course. Thus far these conferences had failed to point a way to a safe financial haven.

B. R. Inman, former editor of the Middletown News, was the manager of the Citizen and George W. Stout was the editor.

PREDICTS VICTORY FOR IOWA G.O.P.

Will Not Send Single Democrat Back to Congress, Editor of Carroll, Iowa Asserts

RESULT ALREADY SHOWING

Washington, June 6.—"I doubt if there is a particle of danger of Iowa sending back a single Democrat," says J. B. Hungerford, editor of the Carroll Herald, Carroll, Iowa, about the congressional elections this fall.

Mr. Hungerford is editor and publisher of the oldest paper in his county and is in close touch with political conditions in the Hawkeye state.

He says that the results of the Democratic tariff which are already beginning to show in the middle west are giving the farmers great concern, especially the importation of corn and meat from Argentina to compete with products of the American farmer. These things are threatening the farming industry, says Mr. Hungerford, but they have not lessened the cost of living.

He says the Democratic tariff is helping the trusts that have acquired the control abroad of foreign products that are being shipped into the United States to compete with the American farmer.

MANY ROOSTERS ON GUILLONTINE

Large Number are Killed in Ohio
Following Proclamation by Agriculture Commission

NOT NEEDED AT THIS TIME

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., June 6.—This was the greatest execution day in the history of Ohio. Countless hundreds of roosters went to the guillotine. This wholesale decimation was in the interest of the unfertile egg and was done by special proclamation of the state agricultural commission.

The reasons given by the commission follow: "This is the egg-laying season. If roosters are killed there will be no fertile eggs. While fertile eggs spoil, unfertile eggs will not. Fertility of eggs therefore boosts their price. Roosters are of little real value from May to December 1."

Though the rooster-killing is not compulsory, it was generally believed it would be observed. The commission picked Saturday for the killing with an eye to the Sunday dinner.

EXPECT RECORD CROWD TOMORROW

Game Between Arcadians and Connersville Should Prove Good
Drawing Card—Slight Change

GAME WILL START AT 3 O'CLOCK

Everything is in readiness for the big game of the season tomorrow with Connersville. If the weather is favorable one of the largest crowds ever at the South Main street park will be in attendance and the crowd will be increased by about three hundred Connersville fans who will come here on special cars over the I & C. A close game is expected and Rushville will play to win. The teams were fairly evenly matched in the first game and Rushville has strengthened since then.

Word was received this morning that Harris, who was to play second base, had gone to a league and would not be here. It may be that Manager Fisher will play Quisser at second and place Spellman at third. In this case Tompkins will be left in center field and O'Dell will go to right. Connersville will use the same lineup as in the first game and Rushville will have to step some to beat Remington's crew of old timers. The game will be called at three o'clock.

BIG NINE TRACK MEET ON TODAY

Cream of Athletic Talent of the West
is Represented at Chicago
Field Meet.

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL EVENT

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 6.—The cream of athletic talent of the Middle and Far West was gathered in Marshall Field today for the annual "Big Nine" track and field meet. It was the fourteenth annual conference event and it brought together more than 500 track and field men from colleges and universities stretching to the Pacific Coast.

Wisconsin sent the largest squad and the Badgers were hopeful of carrying off honors. Chicago, Illinois and Missouri had large entry lists and their followers, massed about the stadium urged on the athletes to victory with a pandemonium of cheers.

The nine conference universities had easily the largest entry lists, but the Far West would not concede first place to the Middle Western schools. Leland Stanford University had a strong team that was depended upon by the little knot of Pacific Coast roosters to carry the championship back to California. Smaller universities and colleges had their individual stars entered and record-breaking performances were expected. Among the universities and colleges represented were Chicago, Illinois, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Ohio State, Indiana, Purdue, Minnesota, Missouri, Leland Stanford, Kansas, Colorado, University of California, Lake Forest College, Depauw, University of Denver, Nebraska, Colorado college, Oberlin College Michigan Agricultural College, Drake University, Notre Dame University and Kansas State Agricultural College.

ELKS WILL PLAY A BENEFIT GAME

Announce a Little of National Pastime by Teams From Rushville
Lodge For Friday, June 19.

SINGLES AGAINST MARRIEDS

Daily Practice Will be Regular Routine Until "Play Ball!" is Called
—Captains Elected.

At a meeting at the Elks club rooms last night, preliminary arrangements were made for the Elks benefit ball game which will be played at the South Main street park Friday afternoon, June 19 at three-thirty o'clock. The advance notices on the game say that the game will be one that will make the big leagues squint their eyes in wonder.

Last night Dr. Hale Pearsey was elected captain of the single men's team and Walter Easley was elected captain of the married men's team. At a meeting next Monday evening a manager for each team will be selected and some preliminary stunts to entertain the crowd preceding the game which have been under consideration will be taken up.

Last night the following committee on arrangements and publicity for the benefit game was named as follows: Harrie Jones, Lewis M. Sexton, Will S. Coleman, Will Braun and O. S. White.

The club rooms of the Elks, which will be located in the old Rushville National bank building, are gradually nearing completion. The building is being remodeled extensively. There will be some expense incident to the furnishing of the club rooms and the receipts of the game will be put to this use.

The boys have been quietly organizing their teams for some time and a great rivalry has already arisen. It is proposed to pick the best players from each team and organize a permanent club which will play the best semi-professional teams in the surrounding counties.

From now on, until Mayor Bebout addresses the boys, gives them a word of advice and throws the first ball over the plate, and the umpire calls, "Play Ball!" daily practice will be the regular routine. The Rushville Elks are a live crowd and the attendance at the game promises to set new marks. The full line-up of the two teams will be announced later.

Norwegians Gather There for Sangfest Concerts

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 6.—Music-loving Norwegians from all over the middle west gathered here today for the two big Sangfest concerts to be given in Orchestra hall tonight and tomorrow night under the auspices of the Norwegian Singers' Association of America.

More than forty Norwegian singing societies, with 1,000 singers, will be represented in the grand choruses that are to feature each evening's entertainment. Chicago, Minneapolis, Duluth, Moorehead, Minn., Milwaukee, Fargo, N. D., Sioux Falls, S. D., and many other cities with large Scandinavian populations have delegations here. A big picnic in Riverview Park on Sunday will follow the concerts.

Several of the singers participating in the concerts here will leave next week for Norway to take part in the Christians centennial celebration. Enroute to the old country they will organize a singing society that will tour the principal Norwegian cities.

Jose Servent, Connected With Argentine Embassy, Thinks How Much Cheese Could be Made

IF POWER WERE PUT TO WORK

From Early Morn to Dewey Eve,
National Sport in Canada is
Taking Coin From Americans

(BY FRED S. FERGUSON.)
(By U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 4.—Make it possible for Niagara Falls to manufacture enough cheese to supply the world: That is what Jose Servent, connected with the Argentine Embassy in Washington, would do. Every time Senator Servent looks upon the tons upon tons of water pouring over the famous American and Canadian Falls he has a new thrill and a new idea of what Niagara Falls might become if all of the water power from the rearing falls was harnessed and put to work.

As all the South Americans here following the Mexican mediation conferences are enchanted by the Falls, so is Servent. He looks across the river and the rising mists the waters plunging from their great height and is enraptured. Outside of being the champion cheese town of the world, Servent believes the city would become as big as London were the Falls harnessed.

"It is wonderful," Servent declared over and over again as he looked upon the Falls. "Greater than London the city might become if the power were used. London would be proud to see a city like that grow up over here. And, cheese cheese, ah—enough to supply the world."

Senator Servent's reference to Niagara Falls, Canada, as a cheese city is along slightly different lines from remarks that have come from other sources. There is only one place where a victim of the mediation conference may feel at home and in his element in this section. That is on "Goat Island." Whether there were ever any goats on Goat Island does not enter into the question, but when a squad of Americans is soon there, it may be taken that for the time being the island is well named.

Some one suggested that they do not employ clerks, bartenders, cab drivers or other such persons in this part of Canada. They got only expert appraisers. Look 'em over and get all you can, is the motto. From early morn to dewey eve the chief sport, pastime and amusement is trailing some American coin to his lair and transplanting to a Canadian strong box.

It costs ten cents to ride cross the International Bridge joining the shores of the United States and Canada. It's a nickle each way whether you walk or ride. You buy a round trip ticket which is good for only one day, so if you walk one way and do not return, your walk will cost you ten cents. With newspaper men and those connected with the Peace Conferences making repeated trips back and forth it has been harvest time for the bridge company.

Everything else is in proportion, but there are exceptions. Those engaging in the same amusement as the hotel keepers and others, namely yanking tail feathers from the Eagle and shaking out dollars, are shown some consideration. The natives don't stick each other as hard as they concerted back the foreigner or tourist into a corner and apply the harpoon.

Frederick W. Lehmann and Justice Lamar, the American mediation delegates were initiated into the mysteries of the ten cent toll bridge immediately on their arrival here. After making the first trip to the Canadian side Judge Lehmann probably thought of the Ead's Bridge in St. Louis. Some one about the hotel had succeeded in getting a book of passes for the bridge. Lehmann and Lamar came over the first time on these passes. On starting back the man with the passes had disappeared.

"Book, Book," Lehmann called loudly as he laughingly reminded the

Justice of the bridge ahead. The book was not produced and the representatives of the United States paid.

Little Remule Naon, 11 year old son of the Argentine Ambassador is the pet of the Clifton Hotel, where his father is serving as one of the mediators. Remule speaks three languages, Spanish, English and French and learned to speak English before he did Spanish. He has been posed and re-posed by the photographers. Within a few days he evidently got the hang of the Canadian way. When asked by one camera man to pose, he replied: "Yes, certainly, on condition that you give me one of the pictures."

Remule's particular cronies are Robert F. Rose, representative of the State Department, and the newspaper men. Young Naon has been formally introduced to the American delegates and all others connected with the conferences. When his father is host at a luncheon Remule is always with him. His chief concern is whether his father is making a speech when the mediators are in secret conference.

During the first week of the conference there were apparently twenty photographers about the Clifton Hotel. They took pictures of everybody that looked like mediation—a South American or a Mexican. It was one round of pesos after another, but even the dignified Justice Lamar faced the batteries of cameras unflinchingly time after time. Some of the Mexicans ducked or tried to dodge away from snap shots. As they would be running from an ordinary camera man they would look up only to find a "movie" operator calmly filming his flight. That usually ended the flight.

lance to Catherine Winters. Her name, according to the man and woman, supposed to be her parents, was Catherine but her last name was Forest. The man gave his name as William Forest and his residence as Cincinnati.

Their story satisfied the officers as the Newcastle men returned to that city shortly after making the investigation. According to the story told by the campers, they travel through the country in the summer selling rugs and novelties and when winter comes, they move back to Cincinnati.

Curry obtained his tip from some children in the neighborhood, who told him that the little girl had told them that her name was Catherine Winters and that she had been in New York City. As the story was passed along, like all rumors, it grew in proportions until Mr. Curry decided to make the trip to Newcastle.

RALSTON GIVES ADDRESS

Governor Samuel M. Ralston spoke at the annual commencement of the Sailors' and Soldiers' Orphans' home near Knightstown yesterday. This was the closing event of the commencement week activities. There were thirteen pupils graduated from the home. The girls wore dresses which they had made with their own hands. A reception was held for Governor Ralston preceding the address. A large crowd attended.

TAFFETAS COMBINE WELL WITH VARIOUS MATERIALS.

There is a chic, crisp quality about taffetas that gives just the note demanded this season: it combines effectively with other silks, serge, cloth and almost any of the other smart materials. In the first costume illustrated here is shown an afternoon frock of a striped novelty silk with blouse and panniers of black taffetas; the striped silk of the skirt is brought up on the bodice to simulate a vest. A frill of net finishes neck and sleeves and large black velvet buttons give a pleasing contrast. This dress requires for size 36, 3 3/4 yards of 36-inch material for the blouse (8338) and 4 3/4 yards of the same width for the skirt (8151). In the next design, 8176-8151, we again have the combination of taffetas and another material; in this instance the foundation dress, over blouse and tunic frills are of taffetas and the over-dress of satin striped voile. It brings out the black and white combination that is so popular, as the underdress is of white. This costume may be copied in size 36, with 1 3/4 yards of 36 inch material for the overblouse and 1 3/4 yards of net or lace for the guimpe (8176); the skirt requires 4 3/4 yards of the same width.

Number 8338, sizes 34 to 42.
Number 8151, sizes 22 to 32.
Number 8176, sizes 34 to 44.

Fashionable Bathing Suit is a Flimsey Affair This Year

BY MARGARET MASON

When Mabel and Tessie, Who both are quite dressy, Go out for a stroll in the park Their garments so slimy, Transparent and skimpy Seem mostly a take off—but mark; When they take a notion To dip in the ocean They pile on such flubdub galore, Such bustles and ruffling Such flouncing and puffing, That even the ocean waves roar.

New York, June 6.—To be truly fashionable when you take a dip in the briny this summer you must put on more clothes than you take off. Time was when the bathing beach was the vantage ground where all feminine fine points were frankly revealed. Now all the revealing is done in the marts, the public restaurants and theatres, while the charms of the belle of the bathers are as completely hidden under the up-to-date bathing costume as the light under the proverbial bushel.

Skirts are longer than heretofore and the pantlet a la mode is glimpsed generously below in ruffled and ruffled glory. Panniers of different colors are a favorite trimming and together with the bustle effects in their buoyant bouyancy will no doubt cause a decided slump in the demand for "wings," blenders and cork belts by timorous swimmers.

Brilliant colors that are fast and certainly look it are another feature and rubber flowers made into corsage bouquets are the last gasp in aquatic fashions. Imagine what a snappy effect a spray of pink rubber roses will add to your bathing suit and the spring touch imparted by a bunch of rubber violets is sure to win at the stretch. Certainly nobody could classify these elastic violets as belonging to the skinking variety.

One of the most popular models of a 1914 bathing suit is of blue or black taffeta with a deep girdle of lined plaid or Roman striped silk and a tunic piped in the striped or plaid trimming.

The waist is open down the front to the waist line and filled in with a vest of sheer white muslin with an upstanding collar of the same. Flaring cuffs of muslin finish the long sleeves and the ruffles ending the full pantalets are piped in the girdle silk.

A bright green satin costume has a tunic scalloped on the edge, a low neck blouse waist with a scalloped Gladstone collar of the satin, and puffed elbow sleeves finished with a scalloped ruffle as are the puffy bloomers. A deep girdle of the satin spans the waistline and no other color or trimming relieves this study in green save a white rubber gardenia with green rubber foliage at the belt and a wreath of the waterproof gardenias on a smart green crush satin hat that completes the verdant getup.

A striking black taffeta suit has hectic panniers and bustle of futuristic slick and a V-shaped inset of the same placed point downward in the skirt. Another purple satin suit panniered in poisonous purple and green striped silk has a bunch of violets at the belt.

A bright red satin shows a skirt entirely composed of four scalloped ruffles. The penchant of fair bathers for this scallop trimming is probably accentuated by the desire to prove that quite as many good scollops go into the sea as come out and are as delectable with satin dressing as the deep sea scollops with a dressing of tartar sauce.

The newest sandals are in bright satin to match the bathing suit and are built like the late tango slippers with divers straps. Nothing could be more apropos than a deep sea green slipper with divers straps to cover an under toe, now could there. The sandals perform the aquatic feat of covering bathing feet and the chic flower trimmed hats that top the hirsute waves that top the ocean waves are not the salient features of the newest bathing suits however. The really striking innovations after all are the superabundance of buoyant bustles, panniers and puffs. The minute you get one on you you are bound to belong to the floating population.

Deposition Tells of Some Queer Actions of Rapp's

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 6.—Wm. Rapp, Jr., and Mrs. Katherine Dean of New York dressed negligee strolled about Mrs. Dean's apartments in close embrace kissing and carressing each other according to deposition read today in the divorce suit Madame Schumann-Heinke brought against Rapp.

A trained nurse who lived in the Dean apartments furnished the story of the night stroll. She said Rapp wore a bath robe and Mrs. Dean a wrapper. Their stroll ended in the parlor, the nurse deposed, and she said that after closing the door, they remained in the room all night.

Mrs. Dean's name for Rapp was Billie and Rapp called her several names including "Nonie," "Sweet Clover" and "My Incense."

Rapp would cook, wash dishes, run errands and do anything Mrs. Dean wished was the evidence. Rapp stared hard at the court stenographer but displayed no emotion when his name was coupled with the blond widow. The famous singer bowed her head and bit her lips.

around again. Several recalled that this idea originated here and approved of it.

It all goes to prove that cooperation between our merchants is the way to get and hold trade. No one wants to deal with men who knock their competitors and others indiscriminately. Big Wednesday is a get-together movement, and "the greatest good to the greatest number" is the understanding that makes the business world go round unimpeded. Rushville business men bear acquaintance, and are worth cultivating. The enterprise that shows how the merchants are standing for the same great principle of altruism will bring home to the minds of the doubters, as well as to the faithful, the realization that what we have right here in Rush county is the best that can be found anywhere.

The other day in a large paper was a cartoon showing two men in a car, each reading over the other's shoulder, although both had the same paper. Again I remember another cartoon where were shown two donkeys, on opposite sides of a fence each reaching through to eat the other's grass. Foolish, weren't they? Well, the same goods, or better are sold right here in Rushville that are sold in other cities, at prices just as reasonable. If anything, the standard of quality is higher here. Why should any one find it necessary to trade across the county line in neighboring cities? If those who do will come to town on Big Wednesday, they will have the opportunity to see that Rushville is the best county seat in the state, and will be proud of it. The merchants here are out to prove it.

We are for co-operation.

GIRL HERE NOT WINTERS CHILD

Mrs. W. A. Winters, Step-mother of Missing Newcastle Girl, Comes to See Suspect
RESEMBLANCE VERY SLIGHT
Oliver Curry, Thinking he Had Right "Dope", Goes to Newcastle and Gives Officers Tip

Another Catherine Winters flew fished out this morning when Mrs. W. A. Winters, of Newcastle, step-mother of the missing child, came here to identify a child held at a camp in South Spencer street, in the far western edge of the city. Mrs. Winters positively stated that the child was not Catherine Winters and the little girl showed no signs of recognizing Mrs. Winters.

Great excitement prevailed in this part of the city when it was learned that Mrs. Winters was coming to the camp. The people were aware that the Newcastle officers, who were here had failed to identify the child as Catherine Winters, but hope was held out that Mrs. Winters would be able to do so.

While the crowd was disappointed the mother and father of the little girl under suspicion were over-joyed and expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the outcome although they wished Mrs. Winters success in the search.

The little girl, whose name is Catherine Forest, is the same age as Catherine Winters, but the resemblance is very slight. The color of the eyes and hair of the two are different.

The rumor that Catherine Winters had been found here spread like wildfire last night and when Prosecutor Myers and former prosecutor H. H. Evans came here and stated that the girl was not Catherine hope was not given up. It was stated that Dr. Winters would come here this morning from Columbus, but he found it impossible to do so and Mrs. Winters came down from Newcastle.

Mr. and Mrs. William Forest, parents of the little girl at the gypsy camp, were willing that the police make an investigation and their manner during the whole proceedings was such that no suspicion could be cast their way. They gave a satisfactory explanation to the police and left the city shortly after Mrs. Winters had visited the camp.

Oliver Curry, a local paper hanger, thought he had the right "dope" on the case and slipped quietly out of the city yesterday morning and went to Newcastle where he told the officers his story of the girl resembling Catherine Winters. The Newcastle officials, wishing to run down every clue, started from that city in two automobiles. Prosecutor Walter Myers and former prosecutor H. H. Evans were the only ones to arrive.

The machine in which was Chief of Police Williams, Sheriff Bouslog, Chester Dewitt and Mr. Curry rode turned over five miles south of Newcastle while enroute here and this party of men never did reach the city. Chief of Police Williams was seriously injured, but the rest of the party escaped by jumping.

Prosecutor Myers and H. H. Evans, on arriving here went directly to the office of Sheriff Cavitt and the three went to the gypsy camp, if it could be called such, for it consisted of one wagon. The party was camped west of the city on the Indianapolis pike. The Newcastle men arrived here about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. The girl, according to the officials, bore a very slight resemblance to Catherine Winters.

MAY NOT NEED CARRANZA

Agreement May be Made Without Participation of Rebel Head.

(By United Press.)
Ningara Falls, Ont., Jun. 6.—After a forty-five minute conference between the American delegates and the mediators today there were indications that further progress had been made toward such an agreement as would be possible without participation of the Constitutionalists. The meeting today was called at the request of Justice Lamar. At its conclusion the justice said there would certainly be another conversation Monday. This is the first conversation since Tuesday.

BOARD BUSY WITH ASSESSOR SHEETS

Reviews Not Yet Reached Point Where They Call in Witness to go Over Some Assessments.

MORTGAGE EXEMPTION WORK

The county board of review concluded its first week's work today. The board has not yet been able to get down to the real work of appraisement of the property of corporations in the county, but is busy going over the sheets of the township assessors in order to strike an average value for various articles and products. The board has also been very busy checking up the mortgage exemptions.

Within a short time the board will call witnesses to go over some of the assessments made and to make the changes it believes necessary. Much interest in the value of the corporation property in the city limits is being taken by the people. From the board's report, the general business conditions here can be judged. The board will conclude its work June 23 as it is allowed by law to remain in session only twenty days in this county.

NIGHT FAIR WILL BE HELD THIS YEAR

This Decision is Reached This Afternoon by the Executive Committee of Fair Association.

CONSIDERED FOR SOME TIME

It was announced shortly after three o'clock this afternoon at the office of J. Q. Thomas, secretary of the Rush County Fair association, that a night fair would be held in connection with the annual Rush county fair this year for the first time. The executive committee of the fair board late this afternoon reached this decision after the special committee appointed to investigate the night fair proposition had put the matter up to the executive committee. The question of holding a night fair has been under consideration for several months and the special committee has been making extensive inquiries. Details as to lighting and entertainment will be announced later.

"You may say," said a member of the committee, "that they are going to have a night fair with all the fixin's. It will be the biggest fair on earth this year, too."

BOOSTERS GET SEVERAL JOLTS

They Are Verbal Kind, However, But Species That Comes From Jumping Creeks in Autos.

SKINNED NOSES EVIDENT

Meet With a Cordial Reception Everywhere in Extending Invitations to Big Wednesday.

The Big Wednesday boosters who made a tour of the county yesterday covered most of the ground, but they found some "rough sledding." At one point during the trip the crowd, which rode in four automobiles, received a severe shaking up. They never went back to investigate, but they all decided that they must have "cleared" a creek, where there was a bridge out.

Although they have no exact explanation, they know that something was wrong. The men were riding along sublimely, and with a secure feeling, when suddenly each car, as it crossed the bridge, gave a sudden lurch and a big bound like a bronco that is under the process of being "broken."

The jolt came unexpectedly and unannounced. Some of the men were thrown against the top of the machines, others sideways and others were hurled against the windshields and the back of the front seat. Scarcely a man came out of the fracas without a bruise or scratch of some sort. Skinned noses were very much in evidence this morning.

The boosters on the "Flying Squadron" reported a very cordial reception everywhere. In every town in Rush and adjoining counties they found people who said they welcomed the return of Rushville's bargain days. The whole county would have been billed but for the fact that the boosters ran out of advertising matter. Milroy, Manilla and Homer were not visited, but will be Monday.

Automobiles were furnished by E. W. Polk, John Walker, Otto Busard and Earl Winslip. Among the boosters were, in addition to the men who gave the use of their machines: Charles Raser, Charles Offutt, Earl Osborne, Ralph Payne, Pearl Wamsley, Ben Vigran, Frank Bell, Paul T. Allen, Walter Hubbard, George F. Moore, Joe Lakin and H. G. Hackman. L. B. Smelser and Hugh Mauzy went to Arlington, Gwynneville and Morristown where they distributed advertising matter and extended invitations to attend Rushville's Big Wednesday.

The following was given out at Chamber of Commerce headquarters yesterday concerning the booster expedition:

The Big Wednesday "Flying Squadron" did some fine hustling yesterday, and rounded the county well, even cutting into the neighboring counties in the work of boosting Rushville trade. The "Boosters" made just such a tour on a small scale as the Cincinnati "Boosters" did when they made their memorable stop in Rushville on May 14. They know it pays, and we believe so too.

Everywhere the "Boosters" met with a warm welcome. All the surrounding towns were visited, and at every door we knocked, and invited the residents to our city as we handed them the circulars. Nearly every person smiled warmly and said, "Thank you, I'll come if I can."

The Rushville merchants are known, and have many friends in every community around us. That doesn't look as if all Rush County trade went to foreign parts. People said that they were glad to have the famous Big Wednesdays come

Clearly Demonstrated on Votes For Prosecutor and Treasurer Taggart Crowd Holds Sway.

IN DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Donald Smith Defeats B. F. Miller and O. J. Cook Wins Over Cary Jackson on 1st Ballot.

The Democratic county convention opened this afternoon with the report of the rules and order committee. The report was adopted as read and recommended J. T. Arbuckle for permanent chairman and Howard Clawson of Walker township for secretary. The report was read by W. E. Wallace, chairman of the committee.

The committee on rules and organization also made the nominations for county council. The councilmen-at-large as nominated are Nathan Arbuckle, Walker township; John Vernon, Orange, and T. J. Martin of Washington township. The district councilman nominees are: No. 1, Ed Buscher; No. 2, Samuel O. Norris; No. 3, Rolla Zorne, and No. 4, Lou Link.

Chairman Arbuckle did not make a speech to the convention, but introduced George Bitler, of Fort Wayne, Democratic candidate for state treasurer. The coliseum was well filled when Mr. Bitler began his address. The delegations did not seem anxious for speech making but were anxious for the fight expected when the balloting began.

Mr. Bitler devoted his address to an attempt to show that the country was prosperous under the present Democratic administration despite reports circulated to the contrary. He declared that the depression he hear so much about is all alleged. "One thing is certain, we are not going to have any panics like we had in 1907 under Roosevelt," said Mr. Bitler.

Dale Crittenger, of Anderson, Democratic candidate for state auditor, was next introduced to the convention. Mr. Crittenger praised the tariff law and currency act of the Wilson administration and stated that the people had confidence in both. He praised Governor Ralston and his administration, stating that such laws as the public service commission act and the vocational education law were a credit to the state.

Will L. Brown read the resolutions as prepared by the committee. The resolutions commended all the Democrats in office, from President Wilson, Kern and Shively, down to Finly Gray and even the Democratic county officials. The resolutions were very lengthy and closed with pledging the convention to a clean election this fall.

On the call for nominations of prosecuting attorney the Rushville township delegation presented the names of Benjamin F. Miller and Donald L. Smith. Mr. Miller is an ardent anti-Taggart man, while Mr. Smith who is the present prosecutor is a machine man and was appointed by the Taggart machine to his present position. The convention was all excitement preparatory to casting the ballot. The vote was expected to show the comparative strength of the Taggart and anti-Taggart forces assembled in the convention.

The TaggartFairbanks machine which has gradually got a foot-hold on the Democrats of Rush county, was believed to be in control of the convention. In cases where the delegates or their alternates did not put in an appearance their places were filled with men, who were known to

Detective in Winters Case Declares That he Will be on Hand When The Time is Right.

SAYS HE'S NOT BIT WORRIED

(By United Press.)

Newcastle, Ind., June 6.—R. H. Abel, the detective who has created such a stir in the Catherine Winters case, has not quit the case by any means, if a telegram received here today from him be taken for what it is worth. Abel wired as follows: "Just a few words to let the people of Newcastle know I will be on hand when the time is right. We have the goods, so I am not the least bit worried. I am sending the best regards to Myers and all my friends, wishing you well and luck."

Prosecutor Myers is still investigating the case, but says he has no further report to make. Dr. Winters is reported to have declared that he still believes Catherine is alive and that he will use the funds made in the moving picture business to continue the search. He made a statement in an Indianapolis motion picture house a few days ago that he has employed "six detectives," but no one here knows anything of it.

CARRANZA WILL ACCEPT MEDIATION

But Constitutionalist Chief Will Agree to no Plan That Will Not Eliminate Huerta.

DIPLOMATS ARE SKEPTICAL

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 6.—Carranza is willing to be represented at the mediation conference, was the statement of Constitutionalists headquarters today. But Judge Douglas, legal representative of Carranza, refused to say whether Carranza would agree to mediate all the internal affairs of Mexico. He insisted that Carranza would agree to no plan that did not eliminate Huerta.

Constitutionalists here declared that they would be allowed to land the arms enroute to Tampico. Bryan remained silent.

Judge Douglas said the entire question so far as Carranza and mediation is concerned will be settled within 48 hours unless something unforeseen arises.

South American diplomats were more skeptical about mediation today than ever before. The entire problem has reached such a muddle, they said, that an amicable agreement that will bind all sides seemed remote.

ONE KILLED AND FOUR INJURED

Big Four Through Freight Crashes into Cut of Coal Cars Near Greensburg Today

ENGINEER SCALDED TO DEATH

Other Trainmen are Seriously Hurt, But None Seriously—Happens at Foot of Grade

(By United Press.)

Greensburg, Ind., June 6.—One man was killed and four injured about one mile west of here today when a fast freight train on the Louisville division of the Big Four crashed into a stray cut of coal cars on the main line.

Cyrus P. Nicely, age 30 years, Indianapolis, engineer, was scalded to death.

E. A. Brummerman, Indianapolis, head brakeman, was scalded about the legs and sustained a bruised back.

Ole Oleson, fireman, Anderson, legs and back were scalded.
John E. Brant, Indianapolis, conductor, suffered two broken ribs.
Ivan Jones, Louisville, brakeman, back injured.

The wreck occurred at four o'clock this morning. The through freight from Louisville to Indianapolis was running late. There is a sharp curve just west of here followed by a down grade. At the foot of this grade the wreck occurred. Six steel gondolas loaded with coal had broken loose in the yards and ran down the main line, and the freight, running at full speed, crashed into them.

News of Wreck Here

News of the wreck near Greensburg was received at the Big Four station here this morning, but details were lacking. Section men were ordered to the scene of the wreck at once to help clear up the track so traffic could be resumed. It was expected trains would be running at noon.

SITUATION IS ADMITTED BAD

Conditions in Mediation Circles Serious Because of Reported Landing of Arms at Tampico

SECRETARY BRYAN SILENT

Refuses to Confirm Report Act is Considered Breach of Good Faith by This Government

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 6.—Secretary Bryan refused today to give any information regarding the reported landing of arms at Tampico for the rebels. He refused also to say whether the Spanish ambassador here representing Huerta had characterized the landing "a breach of good faith on the part of the United States."

The situation is admittedly bad. Reports continue to circulate that the Chilean delegate is out of harmony with the other members. Mediation proceedings are definitely halted for three or four days was the belief here today. They are waiting on Carranza. Meanwhile the situation is serious due to the reported landing of arms.

Information reached here late last night that the American schooner Sunshine from Galveston had landed ammunition at Tampico for the Constitutionalists without interference from the United States. Last night state department and navy department officials would not verify the report, but from other sources it was learned that the presence of the Sunshine off Tampico, with arms aboard consigned to the Constitutionalists, had been known to the Washington Government for several days.

In view of the fact that there had been considerable apprehension regarding the attitude the United States might make toward the landing of ammunition at this Mexican port, the actual delivery of munitions of war for the enemies of the Huerta Government without interference was regarded with significance.

With the Cuban steamer Antilla en route from New York to Tampico with arms consigned to Carranza's forces there has been much speculation as to what the United States would do in case the Huerta Government should attempt a blockade of the port.

Every indication, however, was that the United States would maintain its previously announced position that Tampico was an open port. At the navy department it was stated that no order had gone to Admiral Badger since May 18, when he was advised that the government desired that commerce with Tampico be uninterrupted, except an order yesterday to keep watch upon Huerta gunboats at Puerto Mexico and Alvarado.

Should these gunboats manifest any signs of moving toward Tampico Admiral Badger was instructed to report at once to Washington. The Mexican vessels have since been kept under close surveillance.

There had been no report to the Navy Department that the boats had made any move toward Tampico, though previous reports from Mexico City had declared Huerta would attempt to prevent the delivery of ammunition to his enemy.

The movements of arms, pending results of mediation at Niagara Falls and the proposals to the Constitutionalists to participate in the peace negotiations, have been followed by disapproval on the part of the South American envoys engaged in the effort to compose the Mexican situation. In fact, there have been widespread reports that the mediators had protested to Wilson against the United States permitting the delivery of ammunition to the Constitutionalists at Tampico.

Secretary Bryan would not discuss the question as to whether the delivery of ammunition would constitute a violation of the understanding with the South American envoys when they undertook the task of conciliation, nor would he comment on the actual delivery of ammunition as reported from Vera Cruz.

Foreign diplomats in Washington displayed great interest in the situation arising from the shipment of war munitions to Mexican ports and they were watching closely for news of a formal declaration of a blockade by the Huerta Government.

IMPORTANT To Housekeepers

We are informed that a corps of operatives from an Alum Baking Powder manufacturer are calling from house to house in this vicinity, making so-called "foaming" demonstrations of the raising power of their baking powder. The demonstrations have been denounced by the Pure Food Commissioners of a number of States as misleading, fraudulent and deceitful, the effect being produced by the addition of albumen to their baking powder to make it foam. If any consumer desires detailed information as to the trick and its character, we shall be glad to send it upon receipt of an inquiry.

These demonstrators carefully avoid any reference to the fact that their baking powder is made of alum. In most States it is required that all baking powders sold shall be plainly labeled to show their ingredients, and the term "Alum" or "Sulphate of Alumina" on the label should be a sufficient notice of the true character of such products.

This company gives the above information for the protection of its customers and itself.

MACHINES IN CONTROL TODAY

be favorable to the Taggart organization. This was especially true in the Rushville township delegation.

Only one ballot was necessary and Donald Smith was nominated over Mr. Miller by a vote of 179 to 89. The opposition to Smith developed only this morning. The Rushville township delegation gave Smith 46 votes and Miller 35 votes.

The only big fight of the convention was expected to come on the ballot for county treasurer. The names of Cary Jackson of Rushville township and Oliver J. Cook of Richland township were placed in nomination. The opposition to Mr. Jackson has been very noticeable in the past few days. The main opposition is said to have come because he is a "dry" Democrat and was not booked up favorably by the Taggart forces. Mr. Jackson has held several offices and this was expected to hurt him. His defeat was expected as the Taggart forces demonstrated that they held control of the convention.

Cook the Taggart candidate, ran away from Jackson, being nominated by a vote of 162 to 95. Rushville township gave Jackson only 34 votes as to 47 for Cook. Washington township, Jackson's old home, gave him the only real support he received casting 19 out of a possible 23 votes. In this nomination the Taggart forces showed more than ever that they were in control. Judge Morris, Judge Megee, John Gantner, Jim Casady and others of the "power that be" showed they had the old machine well oiled and running fine.

Don M. Casady, of Rushville and Thomas C. Gray of Ripley township opposed each other for the nomination of county recorder. Gray won on the first ballot, the vote being 139 to 129. This was the closest contest of the convention.

Mr. Jackson was called on for a speech but he refused to respond. Mr. Miller was not asked for a speech. Neither of these defeated candidates moved to make the nomination of their successful opponents unanimous as is the custom.

Many persons marveled at the speech of Dale Crittenger. He spoke of Roosevelt "frothing around over the country" and of Beveridge as "snarling" a good bit of the time.

Several Rush county Progressives attended the convention.

Adolphus Cameron was nominated for surveyor over Will Dill by a vote of 167 to 101. Cameron is the present surveyor and has served two terms.

The names of James Tarplee and Eli Collins were presented for county assessor. Before the vote was announced Mr. Collins withdrew and the nomination of Tarplee was made by acclamation.

At the morning session at the coliseum candidates were nominated by acclamation where there was no opposition. In two cases opposition developed unexpectedly. B. F. Miller came out against Donald Smith for prosecutor and Eli Collins of Posey township this morning announced he was a candidate for the county assessor's nomination. James Tarplee of this city had been the only candidate.

Judge Megee, who was appointed by Governor Ralston when Rush county was made a separate judicial circuit, was nominated as he was the only one seeking the place. Some Democrats have seen fit to label Judge Megee a Taggart Democrat, because he has always worked with the machine here and easily won the appointment for judge, which was dictated by the Taggart organization. The anti-Taggart men in Rush county had no timber to put out against Judge Megee.

Dr. John G. Lewis of this city, former secretary of the city health board, and counted an organization Democrat, was nominated for county coroner and Voorhees Cavitt, the present incumbent, was the unanimous choice of the convention for sheriff. Bert Benner, cashier of Mays bank, an eleventh hour candidate, was named for representative. The story today was that Will Inlow of

Walker township would have taken the nomination, but that the "wet" element was violently opposed to him and that Benner was a compromise candidate.

B. F. Miller was pushed into the ring by his friends to oppose Donald Smith, who many Democrats say is a staunch Taggart as well as a "wet" man. It looked last night as he would have no trouble in landing the nomination. He was appointed prosecutor by Governor Ralston. Mr. Smith is given credit of leading the Taggart forces in Rushville township and is said to have "put across" a Taggart slate in the township convention here. Mr. Miller was advanced by the anti-Taggart men and the "drys." He was reported not to have sought the nomination.

The stench of Taggartism is getting into the nostrils of Rush county Democrats as it is in other Indiana counties. A Democrat is reported to have said that a prominent Democrat leader in Shelby county said the other day that he would not vote for a candidate with a Taggart label and that several of his friends had joined him in taking a solemn oath to that effect. This idea seems to be spreading broadcast that Tom Taggart, Crawford Fairbanks and the rest of the Indiana brewery crowd shall not control the Democrats in Indiana longer.

James Tarplee apparently had the nomination for county assessor sewed up until this morning when a crowd of Posey township Democrats came with a boom for Eli Collins.

At the morning session Samuel Trabue, county chairman, and Knowles Casady, secretary of the county central committee, acted as temporary officers of the convention. The committees were all named at this morning's session.

U. S. Gift to Colombia.

The present kind of diplomacy that holds sway in the United States is the kind that presents to the Colombia government a cool million dollars in gold in American money, in addition to allowing the government and people of Colombia all of the privileges in the Panama canal that are provided for the United States and her people—the country which made possible the greatest engineering feat of many ages and the one on which repeated failures have resulted.

But for our resourcefulness and ability, we have to pay. Why we should pay has never been fathomed, but that is Bryan diplomacy. The treaty with Colombia contains expressions of regret with regard to the events of 1903 when the United States acquired the property where the canal was built, when it ought to be matched by reciprocal expressions on the part of Colombia.

The current number of the American Review of Reviews calls attention to the fact that the senate should scrutinize with care and deliberation this treaty with Colombia, and well given is this advice. It is most certainly the opinion in the United States that Colombia behaved reprehensibly in refusing to ratify the treaty which her authorities had eagerly negotiated with us, known as the Hay-Herran treaty. Our law relating to the canal authorized the President at that time to abandon the Panama route and construct the canal across Nicaragua. If we had adopted this alternative it would have been absolutely ruinous to all the interests of the state of Panama. The people of that state were thus justified in declaring their independence. They were the political and sovereign party in interest, in a far higher sense than was the Government at Bogota.

The French people were also a very important and real party in interest. They had expended a thousand million francs trying to construct the Panama Canal, and had sacrificed perhaps a score of thousands of lives on the isthmus. The politicians at Bogota had done nothing more than to dream that a technical claim of sovereignty might bring them rich awards. Their interests were shadowy; those of others were substantial. We had at first decided to build the canal at Nicaragua. We were conferring an estimable boon upon Colombia when we changed our plans. Others were making immense investments and sacrifices, while Colombia was making neither, but merely counting her prospective gains. The pending treaty refers to the "rights and interests" of Colombia in the canal. This is an unfortunate phrase, because if Colombia has any rights and interests in the canal, they must be paramount.

For a little insignificant sum of twenty-five million Colombia is willing to admit that we also have some rights and interests, and to acknowledge the independence and sovereignty of the republic of Panama. This is to concede that the local rights and interests are indeed those of Panama as sovereign, and not those of Colombia.

The Review of Reviews recalls that this treaty also grants to Colombia certain rights to use the canal, free of tolls, in perpetuity. No such right ought to be granted to any country unless granted to all countries. It is obvious that we could appropriately make concessions to little Panama itself when arranging for the canal strip. But no favored rights in the use of the canal should be granted to Colombia, unless we are also willing to grant them to Mexico and the Central American countries, and in this contention the Review of Reviews seems to be right most certainly.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

Some Nuts to Crack

It is a little hard to understand the mental processes of those who hold up their hands in holy horror at the leadership of a Penrose, and hug to their bosom the leadership of a Bill Flinn.

Beside Bill Flinn, Penrose is attar of roses vs. essence of asafetida.

Penrose is accused of nothing that Flinn has not done in politics. Flinn is a contractor who has amassed millions, much of it in municipal work in the city of Pittsburg, under contracts secured from city and county governments dominated by him. Under his control Pittsburg became one of the "wide-openest" cities in the United States.

And Penrose, by the way, never became a bad boss until he broke with the colonel. Prior to that time he controlled all the offices handed out from the White House which were ordinarily accredited to a senator. He recommended the postmasters in democratic districts and through his hands from the president went the patronage customarily given to a "desirable" senator. The rank and file of the republican party throughout the country never helped Senator Penrose build up his organization through the conferring upon him of public favors, but the colonel, as president, did, just as he did in the case of Senator Quay, Senator Gageheim, Speaker Cannon, Senator Foraker, until the quarrel arose, Senator, then congressman, Lorimer and all the others whose names have since become a hissing and a byword in the mouth of the upward-lookers.

It is impossible for the common or garden variety of citizen to believe that these men changed their characters when their relations with one great leader changed. If they were desirable at the time he was using patronage to build them up, they are quite as desirable now; and if they are undesirable now, they were undesirable then.

The man in the street is also trying to figure out at this time how it is that the voice of people is portrayed as the voice of God in a bull moose party platform, and the universal primary a cure-all for every political and economic ailment, and then when it turns out as it did in Pennsylvania, where a Penrose gets more of the people's votes than any two of his opponents put together; the leaders of this party raise the cry that the voice of the people is the voice of the devil.

Progressive Tones.

We are gratified to note in the Indianapolis Star today that "Bright Outlook for New Party is Found by Toner." It might be explained that Toner is the state chairman, but the recent primaries in Indiana and elsewhere indicate that he has not sounded the right note even though he's a toner. Furthermore, it might be suggested that if Mr. Toner look in the cellar for hopes, he will find even "brighter prospects."

Be cheerful! We read the other day of a one-armed man who is happy in the satisfaction that he will pound his thumb with a hammer.

Detective Abel in the Winters case may think there's something in a name, but he's failed to show the skeptical yet.

MACHINE MEN HAVE BIG TASK

Those at Helm of Indiana Democracy Begin to Realize They Will Have No Help From Progressives

ALARMED AT G. O. P. ACTIVITY

They are Unable to Comprehend the Change in Public Sentiment and Understand the Trend.

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Indianapolis, June 6.—Engineers of the Indiana Democratic machine are beginning to realize that the road they will be compelled to travel this year will be rather rocky compared with the smooth way over which they ran their machine two years ago. The imposing obstacles that are now looming up are causing considerable worry and apprehension among the politicians who figure that the Democratic party in Indiana has been committed to their care "to have and to hold." Two months ago they confidently expected that division in the ranks of the Republicans would be sufficient to bring victory to their standard no matter how "strong" they might go in their nominations and manipulations. For a time they refused to accept their face value the ample indications that the Republicans of Indiana were rapidly being reunited in their opposition to the free trade party but at last these evidences have been piled so high that they can no longer deceive even themselves that they have a ghost of a show of winning in Indiana this year if they rely solely on division in the Republican ranks.

The practical disappearance of the Bull Moose party, as such, has thrown the candidates on the Democratic state ticket into a panic. They are railing at the organization leaders and besieging them to "get busy"; they are bringing every pressure possible to bear on President Wilson to promise to make a speech in Indiana this fall in an effort to stem the tide towards Republicanism; they are trying heroically to divert the attention of the voters of the state from the two real issues—tariff and taxes; they have analyzed the results of the recent primaries in Indiana, showing great Republican gains and startling Democratic and Progressive losses; and they have about come to the conclusion that everything is working together for the good of those who follow the G. O. P.

The Democratic machine leaders and their state candidates are almost dumbfounded by the manifestations of activity of the Republican workers in every county of Indiana; the remarkably large attendance at the various county conventions has caused them to sit up and wonder; they seem at a loss to comprehend why there has been such a change in public sentiment in favor of the Republicans during the past two months. They seem to be unable to realize that the Republicans of Indiana, in their recent convention, nominated one of the cleanest tickets that was ever presented to the voters of Indiana and adopted a platform which has been pronounced one of the most progressive documents ever presented by any political party in any state.

Business, agricultural and political conditions are all working to the benefit of the Republican party. The unsatisfactory workings of the Democratic tariff bill are making Republicans by the hundreds in Indiana each passing day. That's the real reason why the Democratic machine leaders are waking up to the fact that they have got a hard task cut out for them if they beat the Indiana Republican ticket this year. The realization that the Bull Moose vote in the state this year will not be large enough to materially aid the Democratic ticket has given the Democratic machine leaders and the state candidates a feeling akin to seasickness.

MOOSE ORGAN IS "ON THE ROCKS"

The Citizen Failed of Publication Last Week and Its Future is Anything But Bright

B. F. INMAN WAS THE MANAGER

Former Middletown Editor Fails to Guide State Progressive Paper to Safe Financial Haven

Indianapolis, June 6.—The Citizen, the widely advertised bull moose state organ a weekly paper that was to expound the bull moose gospel from one end of the state to the other failed of publication last week, and there is little prospect that it will be published this week or any other week in the future. Inattention or lack of nourishment is said to be the cause of the trouble.

The paper was in existence for several weeks. It consisted of sixteen pages a week for the enlightenment and entertainment of the members of the party. But difficulties began to multiply and a cloud "no larger than a man's hand" was finally seen in the distance. This cloud swooped down last week and caught the Citizen.

When it was found that the paper could not be issued last week the alarm was sounded and numerous conferences have been held since then to decide on a future course. Thus far these conferences had failed to point a way to a safe financial haven.

PREDICTS VICTORY FOR IOWA G.O.P.

Will Not Send Single Democrat Back to Congress, Editor of Carroll, Iowa Asserts

RESULT ALREADY SHOWING

Washington, June 6.—"I doubt if there is a particle of danger of Iowa sending back a single Democrat," says J. B. Hungerford, editor of the Carroll Herald, Carroll, Iowa, about the congressional elections this fall.

Mr. Hungerford is editor and publisher of the oldest paper in his county and is in close touch with political conditions in the Hawkeye state.

He says that the results of the Democratic tariff which are already beginning to show in the middle west are giving the farmers great concern, especially the importation of corn and meat from Argentina to compete with products of the American farmer. These things are threatening the farming industry, says Mr. Hungerford, but they have not lessened the cost of living.

He says the Democratic tariff is helping the trusts that have acquired the control abroad of foreign products that are being shipped into the United States to compete with the American farmer.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. No cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

MANY ROOSTERS ON GUILLONTINE

Large Number are Killed in Ohio
Following Proclamation by Agriculture Commission

NOT NEEDED AT THIS TIME

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., June 6.—This was the greatest execution day in the history of Ohio. Countless hundreds of roosters went to the guillotine. This wholesale decimation was in the interest of the infertile egg and was done by special proclamation of the state agricultural commission.

The reasons given by the commission follow: "This is the egg-laying season. If roosters are killed there will be no fertile eggs. While fertile eggs spoil, infertile eggs will not. Fertility of eggs therefore boosts their price. Roosters are of little real value from May to December 1."

Though the rooster-killing is not compulsory, it was generally believed it would be observed. The commission picked Saturday for the killing with an eye to the Sunday dinner.

EXPECT RECORD CROWD TOMORROW

Game Between Arcadians and Connersville Should Prove Good
Drawing Card—Slight Change

GAME WILL START AT 3 O'CLOCK

Everything is in readiness for the big game of the season tomorrow with Connersville. If the weather is favorable one of the largest crowds ever at the South Main street park will be in attendance and the crowd will be increased by about three hundred Connersville fans who will come here on special cars over the I & C. A close game is expected and Rushville will play to win. The teams were fairly evenly matched in the first game and Rushville has strengthened since then.

Word was received this morning that Harris, who was to play second base, had gone to a league and would not be here. It may be that Manager Fisher will play Quisser at second and place Spelman at third. In this case Tompkins will be left in center field and O'Dell will go to right. Connersville will use the same lineup as in the first game and Rushville will have to step some to beat Remington's crew of old timers. The game will be called at three o'clock.

BIG NINE TRACK MEET ON TODAY

Cream of Athletic Talent of the West
is Represented at Chicago
Field Meet.

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL EVENT

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 6.—The cream of athletic talent of the Middle and Far West was gathered in Marshall Field today for the annual "Big Nine" track and field meet. It was the fourteenth annual conference event and it brought together more than 500 track and field men from colleges and universities stretching to the Pacific Coast.

Wisconsin sent the largest squad and the Badgers were hopeful of carrying off honors. Chicago, Illinois and Missouri had large entry lists and their followers, massed about the stadium urged on the athletes to victory with a pentamorphism of cheers.

The nine conference universities had easily the largest entry lists, but the Far West would not concede first place to the Middle Western schools. Leland Stanford University had a strong team that was depended upon by the little knot of Pacific Coast roosters to carry the championship back to California. Smaller universities and colleges had their individual stars entered and record-breaking performances were expected. Among the universities and colleges represented were Chicago, Illinois, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Ohio State, Indiana, Purdue, Minnesota, Missouri, Leland Stanford, Kansas, Colorado, University of California, Lake Forest College, DePaul, University of Denver, Nebraska, Colorado college, Oberlin College, Michigan Agricultural College, Drake University, Notre Dame University and Kansas State Agricultural College.

ELKS WILL PLAY A BENEFIT GAME

Announce a Little of National Pastime by Teams From Rushville
Lodge For Friday, June 19.

SINGLES AGAINST MARRIEDS

Daily Practice Will be Regular Routine Until "Play Ball!" is Called
—Captains Elected.

At a meeting at the Elks club rooms last night, preliminary arrangements were made for the Elks benefit ball game which will be played at the South Main street park Friday afternoon, June 19 at three-thirty o'clock. The advance notices on the game say that the game will be one that will make the big leagues squint their eyes in wonder.

Last night Dr. Hale Pearsey was elected captain of the single men's team and Walter Easley was elected captain of the married men's team. At a meeting next Monday evening a manager for each team will be selected and some preliminary stunts to entertain the crowd preceding the game which have been under consideration will be taken up.

Last night the following committee on arrangements and publicity for the benefit game was named as follows: Harrie Jones, Lewis M. Sexton, Will S. Coleman, Will Braun and O. S. White.

The club rooms of the Elks, which will be located in the old Rushville National bank building, are gradually nearing completion. The building is being remodeled extensively. There will be some expense incident to the furnishing of the club rooms and the receipts of the game will be put to this use.

The boys have been quietly organizing their teams for some time and a great rivalry has already arisen. It is proposed to pick the best players from each team and organize a permanent club which will play the best semi-professional teams in the surrounding counties.

From now on, until Mayor Behout addresses the boys, gives them a word of advice and throws the first ball over the plate, and the umpire calls, "Play Ball!" daily practice will be the regular routine. The Rushville Elks are a live crowd and the attendance at the game promises to set new marks. The full line-up of the two teams will be announced later.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 6.—Music-loving Norwegians from all over the middle west gathered here today for the two big Sangerfest concerts to be given in Orchestra hall tonight and tomorrow night under the auspices of the Norwegian Singers' Association of America.

More than forty Norwegian singing societies, with 1,000 singers, will be represented in the grand choruses that are to feature each evening's entertainment. Chicago, Minneapolis, Duluth, Moorehead, Minn., Milwaukee, Fargo, N. D., Sioux Falls, S. D., and many other cities with large Scandinavian populations have delegations here. IMPRESSED BY NIAGARA FALLS

Jose Servent, Connected With Argentine Embassy, Thinks How Much Cheese Could be Made

IF POWER WERE PUT TO WORK

From Early Morn to Dewey Eve,
National Sport in Canada is
Taking Coin From Americans

(BY FRED S. FERGUSON.)

(By U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 4.—Make it possible for Niagara Falls to manufacture enough cheese to supply the world! That is what Jose Servent, connected with the Argentine Embassy in Washington, would do. Every time Senor Servent looks upon the tons upon tons of water pouring over the famous American and Canadian Falls he has a new thrill and a new idea of what Niagara Falls might become if all of the water power from the rearing falls was harnessed and put to work.

As all the South Americans here following the Mexican mediation conference are enchanted by the Falls, so is Servent. He looks across the river and the rising mists the waters plunging from their great height and is enraptured. Outside of being the champion cheese town of the world, Servent believes the city would become as big as London were the Falls harnessed.

"It is wonderful," Servent declared over and over again as he looked upon the Falls. "Greater than London the city might become if the power were used. London would be proud to see a city like that grow up over here. And, cheese cheese, ah—enough to supply the world."

Senor Servent's reference to Niagara Falls, Canada, as a cheese city is along slightly different lines from remarks that have come from other sources. There is only one place where a victim of the mediation conference may feel at home and in his element in this section. That is on "Goat Island." Whether there were ever any goats on Goat Island does not enter into the question, but when a squad of Americans is soon there, it may be taken that for the time being the island is well named.

Some one suggested that they do not employ clerks, bartenders, cab drivers or other such persons in this part of Canada. They got only expert appraisers. Look 'em over and get all you can, is the motto. From early morn to dewey eve the chief sport, pastime and amusement is trailing some American coin to his lair and trans-planting to a Canadian strong box.

It costs ten cents to ride cross the International Bridge joining the shores of the United States and Canada. It's a nickel each way whether you walk or ride. You buy a round trip ticket which is good for only one day, so if you walk one way and do not return, your walk will cost you ten cents. With newspaper men and those connected with the Peace Conference making repeated trips back and forth it has been harvest time for the bridge company.

Everything else is in proportion, but there are exceptions. Those engaging in the same amusement as the hotel keepers and others, namely yanking tail feathers from the Eagle and shaking out dollars, are shown some consideration. The natives don't stick each other as hard as they concertedly back the foreigner or tourist into a corner and apply the harpoon.

Frederick W. Lehmann and Justice Lamar, the American mediation delegates were initiated into the mysteries of the ten cent toll bridge immediately on their arrival here. After making the first trip to the Canadian side Judge Lehmann probably thought of the Ead's Bridge in St. Louis. Some one about the hotel had succeeded in getting a book of passes for the bridge. Lehmann and Lamar came over the first time on these passes. On starting back the man with the passes had disappeared.

"Book, Book," Lehmann called loudly as he laughingly reminded the

Justice of the bridge ahead. The book was not produced and the representatives of the United States paid.

Little Remule Naon, 11 year old son of the Argentine Ambassador is the pet of the Clifton Hotel, where his father is serving as one of the mediators. Remule speaks three languages, Spanish, English and French and learned to speak English before he did Spanish. He has been posed and re-posed by the photographers. Within a few days he evidently got the hang of the Canadian way. When asked by one camera man to pose, he replied: "Yes, certainly, on condition that you give me one of the pictures."

Remule's particular cronies are Robert F. Rose, representative of the State Department, and the newspaper men. Young Naon has been formally introduced to the American delegates and all others connected with the conference. When his father is host at a luncheon Remule is always with him. His chief concern is whether his father is making a speech when the mediators are in secret conference.

During the first week of the conference there were apparently twenty photographers about the Clifton Hotel. They took pictures of everybody that looked like mediation—a South American or a Mexican. It was one round of pesos after another, but even the dignified Justice Lamar faced the batteries of cameras unflinchingly time after time. Some of the Mexicans ducked or tried to dodge away from snap shots. As they would be running from an ordinary camera man they would look up only to find a "movie" operator calmly filming his flight. That usually ended the flight.

lance to Catherine Winters. Her name, according to the man and woman, supposed to be her parents, was Catherine but her last name was Forest. The man gave his name as William Forest and his residence as Cincinnati.

Their story satisfied the officers as the Newcastle men returned to that city shortly after making the investigation. According to the story told by the campers, they travel through the country in the summer selling rugs and novelties and when winter comes, they move back to Cincinnati. Curry obtained his tip from some children in the neighborhood, who told him that the little girl had told them that her name was Catherine Winters and that she had been in New York City. As the story was passed along, like all rumors, it grew in proportions until Mr. Curry decided to make the trip to Newcastle.

TAFFETAS COMBINE WELL WITH VARIOUS MATERIALS.

There is a chic, crisp quality about taffetas that gives just the note demanded this season; it combines effectively with other silks, serge, cloth and almost any of the other smart materials. In the first costume illustrated here is shown an afternoon frock of a striped novelty silk with blouse and panniers of black taffetas; the striped silk of the skirt is brought up on the bodice to simulate a vest. A frill of net finishes neck and sleeves and large black velvet buttons give a pleasing contrast. This dress requires for size 36, 3 1/4 yards of 36-inch material for the blouse (8338) and 4 1/4 yards of the same width for the skirt (8151). In the next design, 8176-8151, we again have the combination of taffetas and another material; in this instance the foundation dress, over blouse and tunic, frills are of taffetas and the over-dress of satin striped voile. It brings out the black and white combination that is so popular, as the underdress is of white. This costume may be copied in size 36, with 1 3/4 yards of 36 inch material for the overblouse and 1 1/2 yards of net or lace for the gimpes (8176); the skirt requires 4 1/4 yards of the same width.

Number 8338, sizes 34 to 42.
Number 8151, sizes 22 to 32.
Number 8176, sizes 34 to 44.

Fashionable Bathing Suit is a Flimsey Affair This Year

BY MARGARET MASON
When Mabel and Tessie, Who both are quite dressy, Go out for a stroll in the park Their garments so slimpy, Transparent and skimpy Seem mostly a take off—but mark; When they take a notion To dip in the ocean They pile on such flubdub galore, Such bustles and ruffling, Such flouncing and puffing, That even the ocean waves roar.

New York, June 6.—To be truly fashionable when you take a dip in the briny this summer you must put on more clothes than you take off. Time was when the bathing beach was the vantage ground where all feminine fine points were frankly revealed. Now all the revealing is done in the maris, the public restaurants and theatres, while the charms of the belle of the bathers are as completely hidden under the up-to-date bathing costume as the light under the proverbial bushel.

Skirts are longer than heretofore and the pantlet a la mode is glimpsed generously below in ruffled and ruffled glory. Panniers of different colors are a favorite trimming and together with the bustle effects in their buxant bouyancy will no doubt cause a decided slump in the demand for "wings," blunders and cork belts by timorous swimmers.

Brilliant colors that are fast and certainly look it are another feature and rubber flowers made into corsage bouquets are the last gasp in aquatic fashions. Imagine what a snappy effect a spray of pink rubber roses will add to your bathing suit and the spring touch imparted by a bunch of rubber violets is sure to win at the stretch. Certainly nobody could classify these elastic violets as belonging to the skrinking variety.

One of the most popular models of a 1914 bathing suit is of blue or black taffeta with a deep girdle of bled plaid or Roman striped silk and a tunic piped in the striped or plaid trimming.

The waist is open down the front to the waist line and filled in with a vest of sheerwhite muslin with an upstanding collar of the same. Flaring cuffs of muslin finish the long sleeves and the ruffles ending the full pantalets are piped in the girdle silk.

A bright green satin costume has a tunic scalloped on the edge, a low neck blouse waist with a scalloped Gladstone collar of the satin, and puffed elbow sleeves finished with a scalloped ruffle as are the puffy bloomers. A deep girdle of the satin spans the waistline and no other color or trimming relieves this study in green save a white rubber gardenia with green rubber foliage at the belt and a wreath of the waterproof gardenias on a smart green crush satin hat that completes the verdant getup.

A striking black taffeta suit has hectic panniers and bustle of futurist silk and and a V-shaped inset of the same placed point downward in the skirt. Another purple satin suit panniered in poisonous purple and green striped silk has a bunch of violets at the belt.

A bright red satin shows a skirt entirely composed of four scalloped ruffles. The pendant of fair bathers for this scallop trimming is probably accentuated by the desire to prove that quite as many good scallops go into the sea as come out and are as delectable with satin dressing as the deep sea scallops with a dressing of tartar sauce.

The newest sandals are in bright satin to match the bathing suit and are built like the late tango slippers with divers straps. Nothing could be more apropos than a deep sea green slipper with divers straps to cover an under toe, now could there. The sandals perform the aquatic feat of covering bathing feet and the chic flower trimmed hats that top the lirst waves that top the ocean waves are not the salient features of the newest bathing suits however. The really striking innovations after all are the superabundance of buxant bustles, panniers and puffs. The minute you get one on you you are bound to belong to the floating population.

Why Not Pay More?

For Sherwin-Williams Paint

Than For Some Others

REASON No. 1—Because there is 20% more pigment in a gallon can and pigment costs more than oil.

REASON No. 2—Because the formula is on the can; you get just what you pay for—an honest paint.

REASON No. 3—There is no coal oil or cheap mineral oil in it.

REASON No. 4—It has stood the test for 60 years and more calls than any 3 mixed paint on the market.

Why, there must be a reason. Come in, let us talk paint to you.

Deposition Tells of Some Queer Actions of Rapp's

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 6.—Wm. Rapp, Jr., and Mrs. Katherine Dean of New York dressed negligee strolled about Mrs. Dean's apartments in close embrace kissing and caressing each other according to deposition read today in the divorce suit Madame Schumann-Heineke brought against Rapp.

A trained nurse who lived in the Dean apartments furnished the story of the night stroll. She said Rapp wore a bath robe and Mrs. Dean a wrapper. Their stroll ended in the parlor, the nurse deposed, and she said that after closing the door, they remained in the room all night.

Mrs. Dean's name for Rapp was Billie and Rapp called her several names including "Nonie," "Sweet Clover" and "My Incense."

Rapp would cook, wash dishes, run errands and do anything Mrs. Dean wished was the evidence. Rapp stared hard at the court stenographer but displayed no emotion when his name was coupled with the blond widow. The famous singer bowed her head and bit her lips.

around again. Several recalled that this idea originated here and approved of it.

It all goes to prove that cooperation between our merchants is the way to get and hold trade. No one wants to deal with men who knock their competitors and others indiscriminately. Big Wednesday is a get-together movement, and "the greatest good to the greatest number" is the understanding that makes the business world go round unimpeded. Rushville business men bear acquaintance, and are worth cultivating. The enterprise that shows how the merchants are standing for the same great principle of altruism will bring home to the minds of the doubters, as well as to the faithful, the realization that what we have right here in Rush county is the best that can be found anywhere.

The other day in a large paper was a cartoon showing two men in a car, each reading over the other's shoulder, although both had the same paper. Again I remember another cartoon where were shown two donkeys, on opposite sides of a fence each reaching through to eat the other's grass. Foolish, weren't they? Well, the same goods, or better are sold right here in Rushville that are sold in other cities, at prices just as reasonable. If anything, the standard of quality is higher here. Why should any one find it necessary to trade across the county line in neighboring cities? If those who do will come to town on Big Wednesday, they will have the opportunity to see that Rushville is the best county seat in the state, and will be proud of it. The merchants here are out to prove it.

We are for co-operation.
